Commitment to Service

Respect for the Law

Accountability

Integrity

Respect for People

Transparency

"NSA and its affiliates are volunteer firemen, Marines collecting for the Toys for Tots campaign, airmen serving with the Civil Air Patrol, soldiers coaching Little League, sailors volunteering to clean the Chesapeake Bay and civilians leading Girl and Boy Scout troops. In short, they are your neighbors."

Michael S. Rogers
Admiral, USN
Commander, U.S. Cyber Command
Director, NSA/ Chief, CSS

NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY

Defending Our Nation and Allies
Securing The Future

NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY

NSA has been at the forefront of national security for more than 60 years. NSA is committed to remaining the world leader in information assurance and foreign signals intelligence.

NSA's information assurance mission secures our nation's most critical information against enemy exploitation.

NSA also provides intelligence regarding threats – to our homeland, to our troops, and in cyberspace – through our foreign signals intelligence mission. NSA's missions provide and protect vital national security information so American citizens, our warfighters and our allies are safe.
